

The Medium's Creed

In the name of harmony and the name of peace, I ask to open to the divine presence and heed the teachings of the Celestial Court.

May I be an instrument of divine wisdom and assist in the flow of this infinite light.
May I bring forth innocence, a listening heart, and a willing mind.
May I be encouraged by the esoteric symbol of the angelic wings to allow and inspire, to accept and to receive.

May I find charity, kindness, and humility. May my words and actions reflect my inner beauty and the personal journey of my own healing. May I remember that all and any mediumistic instructions come first and foremost towards me and only when integrated fully, are offered to others.

I ask that harmony walk by my side - leading, guiding, showing the way. I ask that in calling upon Spirit, I may know my place within the divine plan. I will not be adding nor subtracting to these sacred instructions.

Dear God, please keep me from presumption of being immune to the influence of mocking spirits and their like, from feeling pride or superiority, from not being present for the needs of my brothers and sisters. I ask that if I make mistakes or if I am unaware of acting in disharmony, please God, inspire others to instruct me and bring this to my attention. I ask that you give me the humility to accept correction and criticism so I can keep on shining within this light.

Dear God let me be an instrument of your light, let me be a torch of love for those in darkness. Let me be a blazing flame of faith and compassion. Let me sow seeds of hope and joyous laughter. Let me offer healing and lend a loving hand.
Grant that I may find my peace; grant that I may walk in gratitude.

I ask always to remember the gravity of this task and the necessity of which it is called upon. May my service be true and my heart forever innocent.
